

GPRO courses are approved for GBCI and AIA Continuing Education credits.

See below for details.

Please click here to request a document certifying that you attended a GPRO course.

GBCI:

The following GPRO courses are approved for GBCI credits (non LEED-specific) which count toward the CMP (Credential Maintenance Program).

- Fundamental of Building Green (4 hours)
- FUND + Construction Management (10 hours)
- FUND + Operations & Maintenance Essentials (12 hours)
- FUND + Electrical Systems (10 hours)

CMP (Credentialing Maintenance Program) requires:

LEED Green Associate: 15 hours of continuing education every two years. Three of these hours must be obtained from an approved program specific to the LEED Rating System, credit categories, and LEED updates.

LEED AP credential: 30 hours of continuing education required every two years. Six of these hours must be obtained from an approved program specific to the LEED Rating System, credit categories, and LEED updates.

AIA:

The following GPRO courses are approved for AIA Credits, which includes general LU's (Learning Units), HSW (Health, Safety, & Welfare), and SD (Sustainable Design).

- Fundamental of Building Green (4 hours)
- FUND + Construction Management (10 hours)
- FUND + Operations & Maintenance Essentials (12 hours)
- FUND + Electrical Systems (10 hours)

AIA members and other architects licensed in states with mandatory continuing education (MCE) requirements for license renewal are required to complete a minimum number of hours of Health, Safety, and Welfare (HSW)-related training. AIA members are required to take eight learning unit (LU) hours of continuing education per year in approved HSW topics.